

Consumer complaint concerning Rs 90,000.

This brief was prepared from the account you gave. It sets out the law that governs your dispute, the provisions each conclusion rests on, and where to take the matter next. Every citation below was checked against the source text before it was printed.

DISPUTE	Consumer Complaint
CATEGORY	consumer
AMOUNT AT STAKE	Rs 90,000
PARTIES	Complainant, Sharma Electronics
RELIEF SOUGHT	Replacement or full refund with compensation for spoiled food
LANGUAGE	English

01 What this dispute is

This is a Consumer Complaint matter. The claimant seeks Replacement or full refund with compensation for spoiled food. Key facts: Purchased a Whirlpool refrigerator worth Rs 90,000 on 12 March 2025.; Cooling stopped and freezer leaked water within two months.; Store refuses to replace or refund despite the product being under warranty..

The facts as we understood them

- Purchased a Whirlpool refrigerator worth Rs 90,000 on 12 March 2025.
- Cooling stopped and freezer leaked water within two months.
- Store refuses to replace or refund despite the product being under warranty.

In your own words

I purchased a Whirlpool double-door refrigerator worth Rs 90,000 from Sharma Electronics, Lajpat Nagar, on 12 March 2025 (invoice no. SE/2025/1187). Within two months the cooling stopped completely and the freezer began leaking water. I raised a service request on 20 May and a technician visited twice, but the problem returned within days. Even though the product is still under the one-year warranty, the store refuses to replace the unit or refund my money, calling it a usage issue. I have the invoice, the warranty card and all messages with the store. I want a replacement or a full refund with compensation for the spoiled food.

02 The law that applies

- Consumer Forum Order

[1] Consumer Forum Order District Commission: Supply of a defective appliance that repeatedly failed within the warranty period, where the seller declined replacement, was held to be a deficiency.

[2] Consumer Forum Order District Commission: Deficiency in service was made out where a home appliance developed the same fault repeatedly within warranty and the authorised service centre failed to effect a permanent repair.

[3] Consumer Forum Order District Commission: The Commission held that non-delivery of a paid-for product within the promised period, followed by refusal to refund, constitutes deficiency in service under section 2(11), and directed refund of the price with interest and.

[4] Consumer Forum Order State Commission: False advertisement of a product feature that the goods did not possess was held to be an unfair trade practice under section 2(47).

[5] Consumer Forum Order State Commission: Charging a price higher than the printed maximum retail price was held to be an unfair trade practice.

03 Every conclusion, and what it rests on

5 of 5 conclusions were confirmed against the source provision. Anything marked FLAGGED could not be confirmed and should be put to an advocate before you rely on it.

CONFIRMED Entailment 0.99

Supply of a defective appliance that repeatedly failed within the warranty period, where the seller declined replacement, was held to be a deficiency.

Rests on Consumer Forum Order District Commission

Source: NCDRC e-daakhil

CONFIRMED Entailment 0.99

Deficiency in service was made out where a home appliance developed the same fault repeatedly within warranty and the authorised service centre failed to effect a permanent repair.

Rests on Consumer Forum Order District Commission

Source: NCDRC e-daakhil

CONFIRMED Entailment 0.99

The Commission held that non-delivery of a paid-for product within the promised period, followed by refusal to refund, constitutes deficiency in service under section 2(11), and directed refund of the price with interest and.

Rests on Consumer Forum Order District Commission

Source: NCDRC e-daakhil

CONFIRMED Entailment 0.99

False advertisement of a product feature that the goods did not possess was held to be an unfair trade practice under section 2(47).

Rests on Consumer Forum Order State Commission

Source: NCDRC e-daakhil

CONFIRMED Entailment 0.99

Charging a price higher than the printed maximum retail price was held to be an unfair trade practice.

Rests on Consumer Forum Order State Commission

Source: NCDRC e-daakhil

04 Where you stand

On the retrieved provisions, the claimant appears to have a basis to pursue Replacement or full refund with compensation for spoilt food concerning Rs 90,000. Each legal point is grounded in a cited statutory passage [1] [2] [3] [4] [5]. The matter can be raised before the District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission through the e-Jagriti portal (which replaced e-Daakhil).

05 What to do next

1. Keep the bill, warranty card, and all messages with the seller. 2. Send a written complaint asking for refund, replacement, or compensation. 3. If unresolved, file before the District Consumer Commission on the e-Jagriti portal within two years. 4. Consumer mediation is available under Chapter V of the Consumer Protection Act 2019.

WHERE TO TAKE THIS

the District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission through the e-Jagriti portal (which replaced e-Daakhil)

06 How this was checked

CITATIONS	5 of 5 confirmed
VERIFIED	100% of claims
OUTCOME	Every conclusion confirmed against its source
REVISION CYCLES	0 of a maximum of 3

Each conclusion was tested as an entailment problem against the exact statutory passage it cites. Conclusions that failed were rewritten and re-tested up to three times; anything still unconfirmed is printed above as FLAGGED rather than removed.

07 Provisions consulted

The full text of each provision is published by the source named. Follow the link to read it yourself.

Consumer Forum Order District Commission

NCDRC e-daakhil

Consumer Forum Order District Commission

NCDRC e-daakhil

Consumer Forum Order District Commission

NCDRC e-daakhil

Consumer Forum Order State Commission

NCDRC e-daakhil

Consumer Forum Order State Commission

NCDRC e-daakhil

IMPORTANT

This is pre-litigation information support, not legal advice. It does not substitute for consultation with a licensed advocate.

Prepared by NyayaBot on 26 August 2026. Reference NB-20260826-1QES. Nothing you typed was stored.